Dorothy Rosen

Dorothy - Dearest :

another year — and the best year of my life - up to date. It's been really grand, all the while learning to love you more. The longer I know you, the more I do love you — the more certain I become that it is only to love you that I ever want to do — + live for.

I am trying to find a place - for me; a place which I could someday ask someone else to share too. I never forget, even though I may seem to do a very poor job of it.

Whatever happens in the next few years, I know that I will always be able to look up to you with all the respect, admiration + love that my heart can hold. As-^(far)-ever "Yours".

Luck to you Dorothy
You and swell

Dear Dorothy,
I surely enjoyed
knowing you, you
and all we met that gave with it luck to you in the future.
Remember our shanty and

With best regards

FOUR YEARS.
*Builded is our stepping-stone.
Molded by an efficient kiln.
Firmly is it placed with bushed tone
Upon Life's doorstep.*

FOUR YEARS.
*Created are our tools,
Unused and shining . . . brightly new.
Hardened and waiting employment, these tools
Will serve us well.*

FOUR YEARS.
*Friendship here has reveled.
And tasted is its ever-glowing joy.
Fondly is it remembered . . . a path travelled Finely and well.*

FOUR YEARS.
*Beauty rewarding faithful work
Is seen, surprisingly brilliant and true,
Counted out fairly and in abundance by the clerk
Of all that's fine.*

FOUR YEARS.
*Drawn on our soul-canvas,
Inerasably painted in eternal colors,
Our four years are indelible until the last,
And will not die.*

Foreword

WE could have chosen many other themes to develop throughout the book, but the opportunity of staying near home and glorifying school surroundings seemed too big to overlook. To make this book dearer in every way to our classmates was our endeavor.

FOREWORD . . . Contd.

The various sections are dedicated to seniors who were chosen by their classmates as being most worthy. An annual is, after all, a memory book, a record of school years and events, and the more intimate memories it brings of people who were your friends or your leaders, the more fondly you will look through its pages.

West Entrance

Dedication

EVERY little has ever been said of the directing force behind the student staff of the Annual.

For five years, Charles Parke has been patiently and untiringly taking the responsibility for production of the school's year-book. His personal enthusiasm inspires those working with him

The dedication of this year's Annual to him is but a small measure of our esteem.

— Queen Anne Vice-Principal

QUEEN ANNE school life is a high expression of joyous living and all-around unfoldment under expert guidance. Among our aims are found development of adequate appreciation of our national and cultural heritage, and a proper sense of responsibility for their perpetuity — training for citizenship. The school aims to teach pupils how to think for themselves, draw their own conclusions, and stimulates the desire to attack as life work unsolved problems, technical, industrial, social, economic.

E. H. Moore

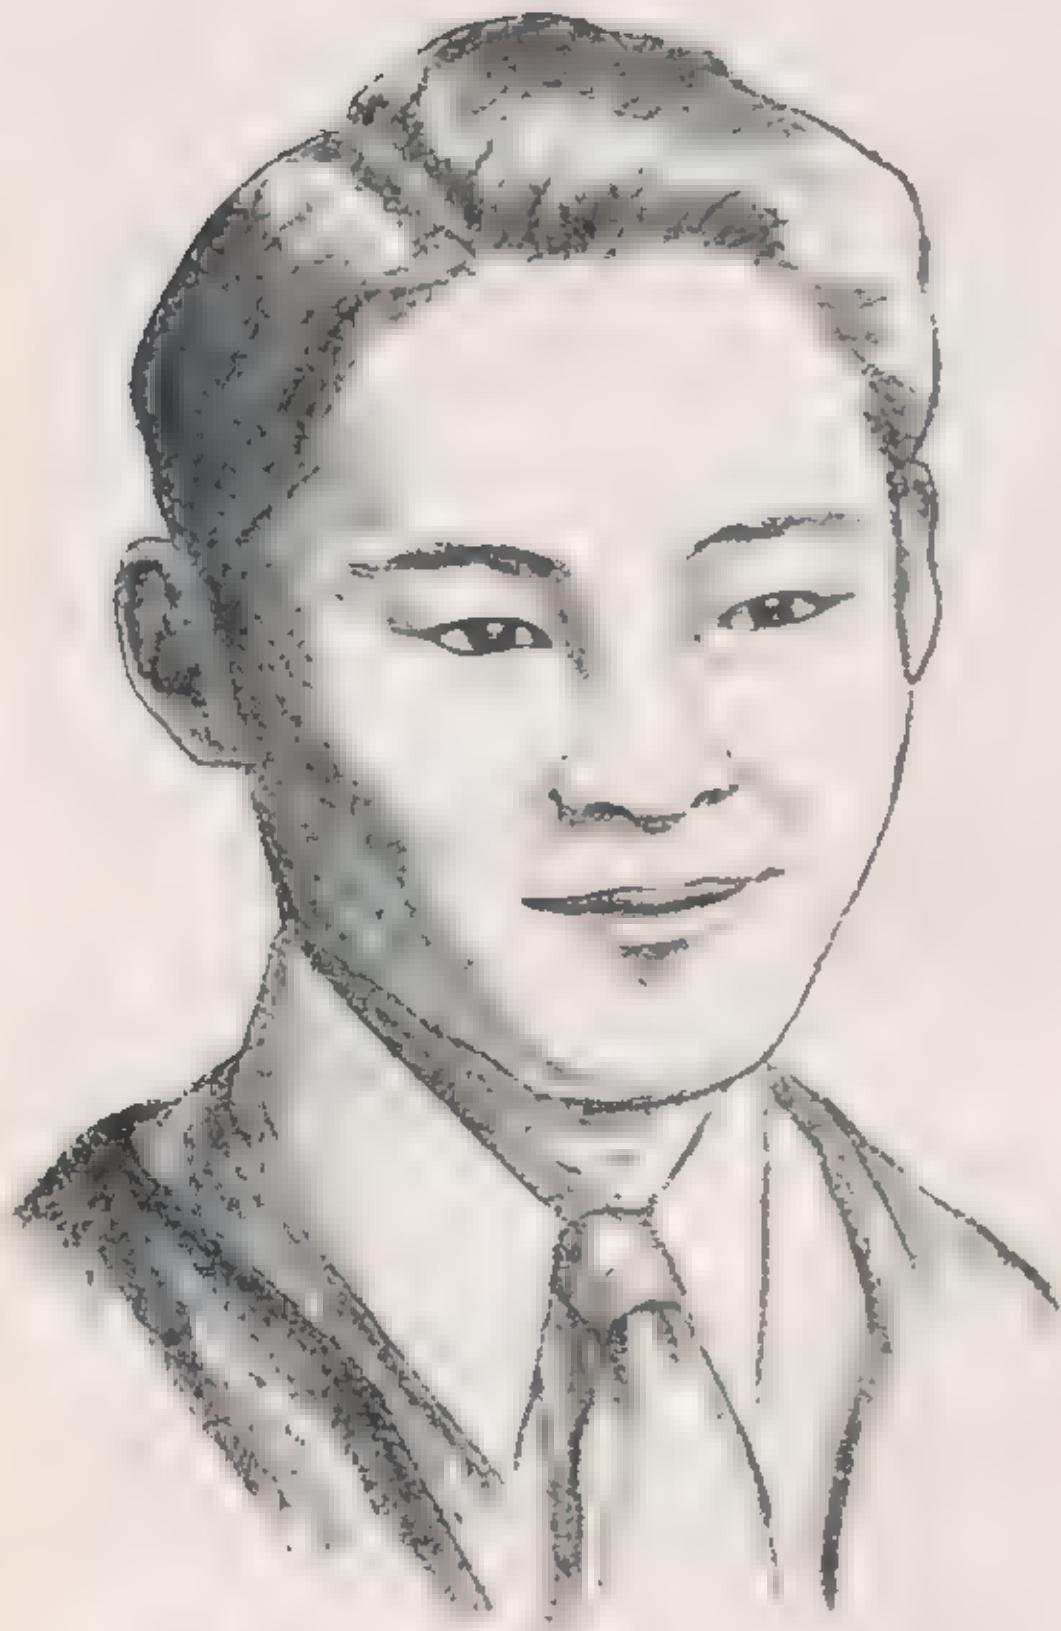

Principal's Message

I UNDERSTAND the theme of the 1933 Annual is "Student Life." We used to look upon school mistakenly as preparation for Life. It is that and much more, for it is life itself. School years are not duplicated anywhere in human experience. They are lived but once. They should be active, happy years filled with the satisfactions of school work well done and happy in the delightful and profitable experiences that come with achievement in student enterprise.

The theme, Student Life, has meaning for Queen Anne Students for I am sure they are very much alive.

Otto L. Luther

Valedictorian

TIED for Valedictorian, he lost the higher honor of making the last speech by a flip of a coin. Yoshi Miyauchi has received 40 As and 2 Bs with his main interests being mathematics and Latin. When he was not piling up his points for the Honor Society whose torch pin he won in four semesters, he could be counted on to run a good race in the half or the mile. Yoshi always will be one of the most respected and well-liked persons wherever he is.

Dear Dorothy -

Of all the girls in Iowa or anywhere in fact, you are the most inspirational.
You're just perfect to me, and I'll never have but one graduate of thousands & odd of
you. I am so proud of you we graduate. I'll always be more than happy to see you come to my house, so you, invit.
They just ride to the beaut. site in the world we do love you,
love! & it's you!
With love & a suggestion
in your admiring friend,
Ella Wesa Redfern.

Valedictorian

Ella Wesa Redfern has made a remarkable record of 40 As and 2 Bs. She has taken a College Preparatory Course and has majored in foreign language. Along with her scholastic interest she has been active in the Girls' Club, being Chairman of the Freshman Auxiliary. She was, also, Secretary of the Honor Society and Key Representative of the "Q" Club. Ella Wesa has, indeed, made an excellent showing.

The Faculty

DURING the last year there have been some changes and alterations at Queen Anne. Some of the faculty have left while new members have been added. The improvements in the school plant consist mostly of the work done by the P.W.A. One new course has been adopted and will be a part of the curriculum when school opens next fall.

We are sorry to say goodbye to Miss Hooper, who passed away during the school year, to Miss Judith Whalen, who is getting married, to Mr. Haroldson, who is finishing his first year at Queen Anne and has been transferred to Roosevelt High as head coach, we also have missed Miss Camozza, who is on leave of absence. Although we have lost some of our regular teachers, we wish to extend a hearty welcome to the new faculty members, who are Mrs. Mae Bross, Mrs. Margaret Hall and Madame Marguerite Neal.

The P.W.A. workers have added much to the cheerfulness of the interior of the building, having repainted and kalsomined many of the rooms and halls.

The new course to be added is called Northwest Industries and is a study of the industries, resources and potentialities of this part of the country. Field trips will be part of the course.

The maximum number of students belonging at Queen Anne during the 1933-34 school year was 1929. The maximum number belonging to the current school year was 1889.

The student body is grateful to the faculty and wishes to thank them for their efforts to make our school life a success.

Kay Pettersen

AN INSPIRATION to Queen Anne girls is Kay Pettersen, the Girls' Club President. For her outstanding personality and all-around good fellowship, she was named Inspiration Girl. Throughout her four years she has been prominent in many activities. During her freshman and sophomore years she participated in athletics and became a member of the Honor Society. In her junior year she was a reporter for the Kuay Weekly and Chairman of the Health Committee.

Theo Carlson

IN RECOGNITION of his outstanding leadership and personality during his high school career, Theo Carlson has received more honors than any other boy in his class. He was class president both his junior and senior year and also president of the Boys' Club.

His popularity was expressed when the members of the football team awarded him the 1934 Inspirational Medal and had his name engraved on the Duffy Inspirational Trophy.

Included among his other activities are two years on the baseball team and membership in the Hi-Y Club and Boys "Q" Club.

Senior Class History

NOW THAT graduation is here, now that we consider the prospect of leaving a place in which we have spent approximately 3960 hours, we naturally feel an attachment, that for four years we have been un-aware of. Sentimentality. Assemblies, clubs, class elections, the Weekly classes (certain ones) and even the Study Hall all take on a sort of romantic appeal. We think back to those freshman days when we used to carry books home at night to impress fellow classmen with our erudite inclinations, when we dol-zed some senior for no better reason than for the fact that she had a cute walk or he had a green roadster — and that senior became the most intallible human on earth. It was our idea in those days to take as many subjects the first three years as we could, so we could "take it easy" when we became high and mighties.

It was all a bit grand and exciting . . . also frightening.

New subjects, assemblies, high school activities, football games, were all bewildering and thrilling. Assiduously we adjusted ourselves that first year . . . then June.

That year our leader in class activities was Bill Avery . . . his assistant was curly-haired Gail Bronson. Harr et Adair began her active high school career as secretary . . . Pavlis Brown handled cash payments and receipts . . . and Jeanne Johnson, who later went to Ballard, put freshman notices in the Weekly.

Words cannot describe our freshman party . . . Miss Butler will never forget it . . . neither shall we.

The first two years dragged but the high school picture came into focus in the screen of our minds. Edge shadows were becoming clearer and, moreover, accompanying sounds were developing from a raucous blur into an intelligibility that was actually encouraging. We almost believed that one day before graduation we would know what the score was.

Each year brings new personalities... our sophomore year brought me from the South — Jody Huntington, president of the class. Marjorie Hood with her cute giggle and brown eyes assisted him. Jane Rummel filled the position of secretary. Le HEE became treasurer and Minnie O'Conner was responsible for sophomore publicity.

A joint theatre party with the freshman class at which popcorn balls were served added to the atmosphere of sophomorism.

As juniors, high school has quite a different aspect... childishness is being left behind... our mental growth is remarkable... self-confidence adds to the accumulated sophistication of four years, in the "teens."

Through his friendliness and dexterity in the southern drawl, Jody was reelected as head of the junior class. Marian Nesbit was his envied assistant... Theo Carlson began his political career as secretary... Roy (call me Pete) Emerson Webster and Alice Kay sat with them. (The definition of a junior class officer... one who sits at the doorway of a mixer and generally causes annoyance by demanding something you haven't... a receipt.)

Theo Carlson graduated to presidency in the second half of the year. Alice Kay stooged for him... his dictation was taken by Harvie Hull, who didn't mind at all. Johnny Penso's batting adroitness won him position of exchequer. Frank Johnson snidled his way into reportership.

By the time that the last year is reached we feel blasé toward the entire grotesquerie of high school attendance, so-called popularity, "big shots" skipping, and school spirit. We wonder whether it is this that we have waited four years for . . . we think back with nostalgic twodings of the innocence and carelessness of our first two years . . . the question of the future haunts us more and more . . . we suffer and experience a number of misdirected ideas and emotions this year . . . school life becomes less interesting . . . activities interest us somewhat . . . we live for the future.

Senior class presidency was bestowed upon Theo . . . Page Warren understudied him while Marian Nesbitt, an officer of the past, got red down senior activities . . . Frank Johnson held the key to the treasury and penning for the paper was Wilfred Gill.

Again Theo was elected president . . . and again Page held vice presidency . . . Frank Johnson retained his position . . . and Perry Baker, quite a journalist, was given good practice keeping up on senior existence.

Ella Wesa Redfern, carrying on a family tradition, and Yoshi Miyalchi, setting one, with equal number of points, became valedictorians.

For our class speakers we chose Gilbert Speir and Virginia Bachelder. Dorothy Rosen and Ed Kelly, winners of oratorical honors, were selected by the faculty.

The Senior picnic committee consisted of Perry Baker and Clarence Froberg, Transportation; Theo Carlson, Entertainment; Page Warren, Orchestra; Margie Hood, Grounds; Mary Lou Klinker and Anne Strelc, Refreshments; and Jim Lounsberry, Ticket Committee.

It is hard to believe that life begins at forty after finishing these four years of high school. Regardless . . . we shall probably always cherish them as "the best four years of our life."

JANE RUNNER.

Junior Class History

WAY BACK in '32, the members of the class of '36 discarded their knickers and ank-a-sox, and swarmed into the already well populated halls of Queen Anne. In self defense they set up their green banner with the help of W. O. Baker and elected Hilda Hullin, Harry Goodfellow, Laurence Mckie, Henry Esquvam, and Ken Dever to lead them through their first stormy year of high school life. Though not allowed mixers, they enjoyed themselves heartily munching popcorn balls at their annual theatre party featuring "Ambassador Bill."

The next fall, when election time rolled 'round, Kelly Oechslin, Harry Goodfellow, Hilda Hullin, Ruby Redden, and Florence Babcock held the class offices. This year's entertainment consisted of the humorous "I met the Great."

Upon becoming upper classmen, they re-dealt the cards. Harry Goodfellow came out on top, with Fred McLarland as vice-president, Ruby Redden as secretary, Pit Hughes as treasurer, and Kathryn Pinter as Kuay reporter. During this semester, the juniors danced through content to the music of a caged orchestra at a circus mixer planned by Pearl Peterson and Sally Turner.

In the spring of the year, Harry Goodfellow and Fred McLarland re-wined their positions, while Sally Turner got the notebook. Phyllis Gallop took over the bankbook, and Harold McGee was forced to learn how to write copy for the Kuay. Still under the leadership of Pearl Peterson and Sally Turner, a nautical mixer was given for the entertainment of the upperclassmen.

Sephomore Class History

IN 1933 a group of green youths, inexperienced in the wiles of upper-classmen, bought their first elevator tickets, and thus became persecuted freshmen in the halls of Queen Anne. Now, two years since that time, the class has become firmly entrenched, destined to leave a mark in the annals of Queen Anne.

Since the first elevator tickets were purchased, there have been two elections. In the first Edo Vanni was elected presx, with Bill Hawke being elected vice presx. Ray Carlson, Ted Hurley, and Dick Munger held the respective offices of secretary, treasurer, and Kuay representative.

The following year, Vanni and Hawke gained prominence in Grizzly sports.

When election time rolled around, Edo Vanni and Bill Hawke were reelected, while Virginia Butler took over the stenographic position, Kay Brennesholtz watched the finances, and Virginia Dearborn represented the Kuay.

To add to the finances, a very humorous cinema entitled "Handy Andy" was presented. The proceeds were shared with the freshman class.

The class of '37 offers its sincere thanks to Frank Rose as class adviser.

Freshman Class History

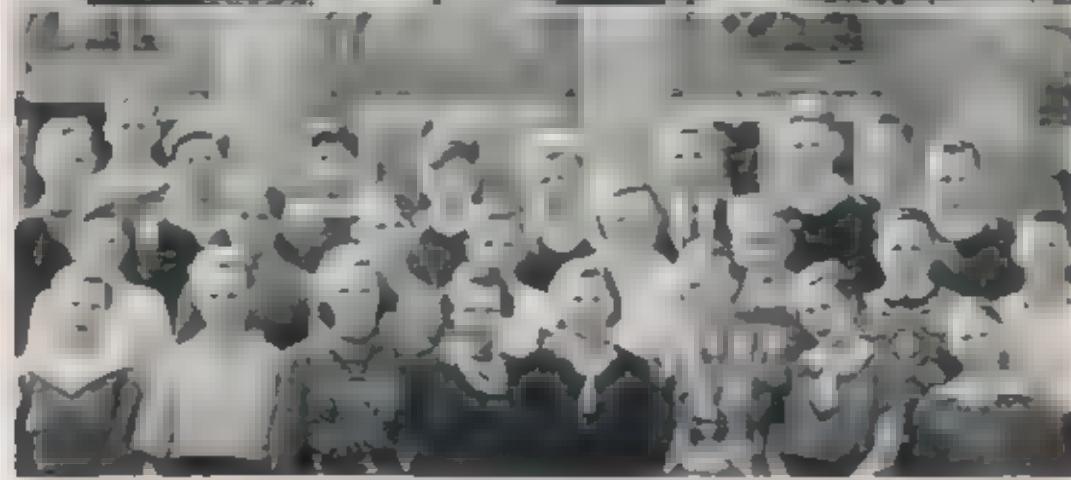

LAST FALL, the freshman class of '38 first appeared in the halls of Queen Anne. At the frosh election, an excellent leader was found in Raymond Segale, with Margaret Eardley as his assistant. As there were few meetings held and the treasury was greatly depleted, Juanita Walker, keeper of the scroll, and Hugh Griffiths, watching the bank, found their jobs comparatively easy. Florence Berg saw to it that the student body was notified of our doings through the Kuay.

The most important event of the year was the "Frosh-Soph" theatre party, at which the picture "Hindu Andy" was seen and enjoyed by all.

In the athletic field we found Raymond Segale an outstanding football player. Donald Lawson and Lenard Mannon were the basketball stars of the season.

The freshmen are represented by both boys and girls on the honor roll. We're grateful to Kenneth Campbell for his helpfulness as class adviser.

—MARGARET EARDLEY.

Harriet Adair

A FINE example of the modern American high school girl, Harriet deserved her selection as an outstanding senior. As an artist she served as art editor of the 1934 Annual and her journalistic ability enabled her to become Editor in Chief of this year's annual. She has also served as Assistant Editor of the Weekly. Dancing is her favorite pastime.

Gil Speir

SCHOLAR, singer, musician, journalist and sports fan, Gil's activities have varied greatly in his four years at Queen Anne. His knowledge of sports enabled him to become Assistant Sports Editor of the Weekly. From this position he worked up to Editor in Chief. As a scholar he made the honor society and his singing won him a lead in the "Fortune Teller."

STUDENT ACTIVITIES is the theme . . . to have the yearbook contain memories of the fun of school life as well as the regular school routine — the aim . . . and a "spicy '34 Grouse" Annual is created.

Classroom photos, bigger pictures of the upperclassmen . . . and many more "snaps" of school life . . . helped to add to the interest in the annual.

At the spring election the members of the senior class chose the ten most outstanding of the graduating class . . . and these, together with the Valedictorian and Salutatorian, were the various sections of the yearbook dedicated. Except for the drawings of these students, done by Lois Blaylock, Art Editor, added much to the appearance of the Grouse.

Harriet Adair . . . Vitor, and former Art Editor of the '34 Silver Anniversary edition of the annual . . . comes from a conglomerate mass of rubber cement, pens, and senior pictures, to take her bow. Under her able leadership the rest of the staff worked with enthusiasm.

In her very best feature style, dark-haired Jane Runner wrote the history of the senior class four active years. /

The juniors were handled by Imogene Horsley and Fred McEarland.

Audrey Clark took care that Queen Anne's clubs and productions got their proper treatment.

Snappy action photos of Kuay sports were featured by Jim Lounsberry, Sports Editor, in his section. Autographed pictures of the stars of the gridiron are destined to save them from the agonies of writer's cramp.

In spite of strong censorship and sinister blackmail plots, Hilda Hullin's snapshot section will go down in Kuay annals as one of the best.

Lots of flowers to Lois Blaylock, whose drawings are a special feature of this book.

Carl Melino and Dick Moore were efficient business managers. They managed to keep the financial side of the yearbook out of the red.

In addition to the regular annual sales drive, a special senior assembly was dedicated to the Grizzly. With Jim Lounsherry as master of ceremonies, Queen Anne's amateur talent gave a splendid program. The two best participants, selected by the staff, were presented with free annuals.

The honorary title of Ad Manager . . . given to the prize ad solicitor . . . went jointly to Jerry Arnold and Pat Carrigan. Other solicitors were: Bob Rockhill, Bob March, Art Tolch, and Jim Elder.

Free annuals were awarded to the two best sellers from each class. Theo Carlson and Grace Ainslie walked away with the senior honors . . . Sally Turner and Florence Babcock tied for the junior girls and Harry Goodfellow was the most proficient salesman of the junior boys.

To Charles Parke, Grizzly Business Adviser, and Victor Buchanan, Literary Adviser, should go much of the credit for the success of the 1933 Grizzly.

The KUAY Weekly

DURING those first ten weeks last fall, it was Margaret Rat von and Harriet Adair, a combination of extreme journalistic aptitude, that gave us school news in Cheltenham and Bodoni.

Graduating from Sports Editor to Editor, Gilbert Speri with that too-hard-to-decide-upon-one duet, David Ulrich and Victor Sparling, kept us informed for the rest of that semester.

Vic, as head man, was somewhat interested in the Ad Managerial end of the paper — Bettie Weaver kept the second page as neat as everything she does.

So, due to the great amount of journalistic ability and ambitiousness, this second semester was divided into five-week Editorships instead of the usual ten.

David Ulrich served second Editor — Bettie still spent Tuesday night at the printshop.

All on account of Margie's ability at street car riding along with her ad getting, Margie Hood continued her career along bigger lines — Bettie was still stooge-in-chief. During this time Mrs. Metz substituted for Miss Carolyn Barclay, Weekly adviser, who was ill.

Bettie did a good job those last five weeks — and because of Pearl Peterson's long experience in lesser positions, she became Assistant Editor.

The "Kuay" was really quite revolutionized during the whole of the year — more banner headlines were used — a greater variety of type — and a new head schedule was used every week.

"The Return of Peter Grimm"

ONE of the most difficult plays ever given by a high school company was David Belasco's "The Return of Peter Grimm," presented December 8 and 9.

The difficult plot concerns the return of a dead man who scorned any ideas of spiritualism. Before dying he had made his lovely ward, Catherine, promise to marry his nephew, Frederick. Catherine, although in love with James, a young employee of Peter Grimm's, promises to marry Frederick. Peter Grimm makes a compact with his doctor, a firm believer in spiritualism, that the first of the two to die must come back and make his presence known to the other. Soon after that Peter dies, and then comes back to discover his mistake in making Catherine marry against her own wishes. He tries to tell her that she may break the promise, when the truth suddenly comes to him that he cannot make his presence known. Finally, all ends well when he sends his message through a little child.

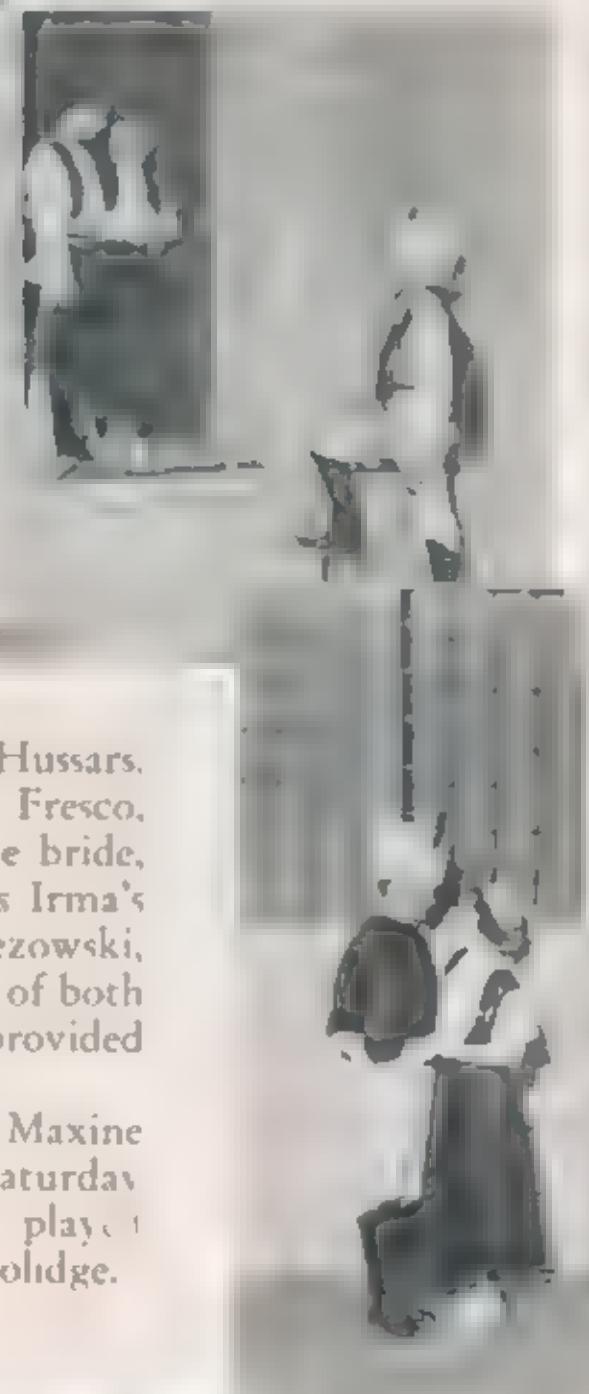

The feminine players for Friday were Charmian Lewis, Maxine Wilde and Amy Hill, while Saturday's cast was Justine Schumacher, Pauline Behnke, and Peggy Caskin.

Playing both nights were Emery Gustafson, as Peter Grimm, Jack Koerner, Norman Hubbert, James Harvey, Don Colvin, Jim Rankin, William Dearborn and Bob Hughes.

The play was directed by Miss Esther D. Uhden. —AMY HILL.

"The Fortune Teller"

WITH gypsies, ballet girls, two heroines who perfectly resemble each other, three rascally comedians, and the gay music of Victor Herbert, the hilarious comic opera, "The Fortune Teller" was presented at Queen Anne May 17 and 18.

The plot concerns Irma, lovely ballet girl, who runs away from her marriage to the eccentric Count Berezowski, a "decomposer" of music, to join her sweetheart, young Captain Ladislas of the Royal Hungarian Hussars. By chance, a gypsy troupe comes strolling by and Fresco, the ballet master who has promised to produce the bride, discovers that Musette, a gypsy fortune teller, is Irma's double. Between the bungling of the Count Berezowski, Fresco, and Boris, Musette's father, and the final loss of both brides to their own lovers, "The Fortune Teller" provided an exciting evening's entertainment.

Playing the double roles of Irma and Musette, Maxine Williams and Barbara Drake performed Friday and Saturday nights. With Maxine, Mademoiselle Pompom was played by Virginia Weston and Saturday by Christine Coolidge.

Playing both nights were James Harvey, Paul Lorentz, Gilbert Speir, Fred Ostendorf, Joe Hill, Barbara Germain, Catherine Mills and the Glee Clubs.

Miss Esther Uhden directed the dramatics, while Mr. R. H. Kendrick and Mrs. Eleanor Southern directed the music.

—AMY HILL.

Alice Kay

A LICE, during her junior year, was class Vice-President and Kuay Representative. She has taken part in the "Kuay Kapers" and "Lilies of the Field." Alice has been livewire several times and at present is Vice-President of the Girls' Club. Being one of Queen Anne's peppiest girls, her favorite sports are dancing, swimming and tennis. Her hobby is collecting poems.

Page Warren

ATTENTION was first drawn to Page Warren when his booming voice could be heard pepping up the frosh linemen when he played center on the yearling team. Since then, his contagious laugh and pleasing personality have won him many friends. He has served as class officer, as a Boys' Club officer, and is an active member of the Hi-Y.

STUDENT Academic membership has made the Honor Society one of Queen Anne's first important organizations.

To become a sophomore member, a student must earn twenty-eight points in his first two semesters. Two-bar pins are awarded to those students who have earned fifty points in four semesters. Those seniors acquiring seventy-eight points in six semesters may wear torch pins.

A student is awarded four points for an "A" grade, three for a "B," two for a "C," and one for a "D." Points are also given to those especially active in student enterprises.

At the annual election held in the fall, Dorothy Rosen was elected president of the organization — with Vera Gilardi as vice-president. Ella Wesa Redfern filled the office of secretary. Morris Marshall was treasurer, and Parker Paul, Kuay Representative.

W. O. Baker is the adviser of the Honor Society.

This year's torch members are:

Harriet Adair, Jean Allenbaugh, Burroughs Anderson, Beth Atwood, Virginia Bachelor, William Bachelor, Lorraine Bentley, Ruth Berg, Lois Blaylock, Gail Bronson, Phyllis Brown, Andrew Carlson, Peggy Caskin, Audrey Clark, Alice Codling, Shelba Combest, Christine Coolidge, Eleanor Czech

The Girls' Club

THE GIRLS' CLUB for the years 1934 and 1935 was headed by Kay Pettersen, President; Alice Kay, Vice-President; Florence Babcock, Secretary, and Anne Strelc, Treasurer, with Mrs. Eleanor Jorns as adviser.

Many of the girls enjoyed themselves at two large Girls' Club parties, made successful through the efforts of Mary Elizabeth Gross, chairman of the Social Committee. The first was a spooky Hallowe'en party. While the second was filled with April Fool tricks.

Probably the biggest event in the year's calendar was the Mother and Daughter Banquet, May 3. Two special attractions were a theatre party followed by a basketball game.

For the amusement and entertainment of the entire student body the Girls' and Boys' Clubs sponsored the Kuay Kapers, known as "International Presents."

Girls' Club work, however, is not all play. On May 22 the Vocational Committee under the guidance of Lenora Hovle presented the spring vocational conferences in which talks concerning various vocations were given by persons in those special lines of work. The Social Service Committee sponsored several tin foil drives, an egg drive, and a Valentine drive. Florence Anderson, chairman of the Health Committee, worked up a posture and correct shoe drive. She, with her committee, helped to choose the Health Contest Representatives.

To show appreciation for the help of the teachers two teas were given in their honor.

Representatives from the Girls' and Boys' Clubs were sent to a Leaders' Conference at the University of Washington. The Girls' Club officers attended two large conferences one at Brownsville in the fall and the other at the University in the spring.

During the fall term one large dues drive was sponsored by Anne Steele, treasurer.

In April election of next year's officers was held. They will be Florence Babcock, President; Sally Turner, Vice-President; Pearl Peterson, Secretary, and Marjorie McPhail, Treasurer.

The Boys' Club

AN ORGANIZATION created for the purpose of serving every boy during his four years at Queen Anne, the Boys' Club has had another eventful year. Much of the club's success was due to the excellent guidance of Felix Moore, the adviser.

The annual Father-Son Banquet which was held at the close of the football season ranked foremost in the activities of the club.

The Boys' and Girls' Clubs combined their efforts to produce the mid-year vaudeville, "International Presents," with the result that the performance was the most successful one of recent years. The profit made from the performance was divided between the two clubs, to be used for the purchase of athletic equipment, etc.

Again, at Thanksgiving and Christmas, the two organizations worked distributing baskets of food to needy families. Letters of appreciation from many of the families who received donations as well as notes of thanks from the Parent-Teacher Association proved the success of the clubs' work in preparing and distributing the supplies.

Taking tickets at the football and basketball games and at the track meets and maintaining order at the baseball games were other duties of the Boys' Club.

Officers of the club this year were Theo Carlson, President; John Penso, Vice-President; Roy Webster, Treasurer; Herb Gove, Secretary; and Page Warren, Chairman of the Board of Control.

At various times during the year, All-City Boys' Club Officers' meetings were held, when the officers from the various high schools would gather to discuss business concerning all the schools.

Harry Goodfellow was elected president for next year with Norman Jones, Fred McFarland, Don Means and Harold McGee his assisting officers.

The team was composed of Harvey Menard, Dick Moore, George Skoor, Burpee Stevens and John Rounsevel.

Music Department

QUEEN ANNE'S MUSIC DEPARTMENT is divided into three major sections of endeavor — instrumental, vocal and theoretical.

The Senior orchestra provides the music for all of Queen Anne's major dramatic productions. Unlike the system used in other city high schools, our orchestra plays for the students in a regular assembly several times a year. This is the equivalent of the yearly evening concert given in most other schools.

Instrumental music is also a major concern this year with "The Fortune Teller" and "The Return of Peter Grimm."

Ten of our students were selected for the all-city orchestra. They are Polly Clifford, cello; Beverly Schneider, Judy Turner and Bob Roehm, viola; Lautene Lindgren and Jack Fricksen, violin; June McComb and Audrey Clark, French Horn; Wayne McMullen, flute; and Jack Hansen, drums.

With colorful uniforms and peppy music, the band keeps the spirits of the students roused during the more quiet moments of the games of the season.

This is rather an unusual organization of its kind in that only boys are selected to play in it. This year their work has been varied. In addition to playing for the football games and school assemblies it played for a Chamber of Commerce supper and at the banquet given in honor of the grand old man of football, Amos Alonzo Stagg. It will also appear at commencement exercises, as will Miss Eleanor Southern's chorus of mixed voices.

The highlight of the season's activities of the Glee Clubs came with their participation in "The Fortune Teller." All of the leads for this operetta were selected from the Glee Clubs. The remaining members had a chance to display their talent in the chorus for the operetta. Acting as gypsies, soldiers and ballet dancers, their roles were most commendable.

Direction of the entire music department is in the capable hands of Raymond H. Kendrick.

POPULAR student and good athlete, Jim displays genuine ability as an executive, for besides being Sports Editor of the annual this year, and of the Kuay Weekly last year, he was president of the Hi-Y last fall. He is a sprinter on the track team and was one of the best punters in the football league.

Herb Gove

DURING Herb's eight semesters at Queen Anne he has participated in athletics continually. Starting as a frosh he earned his numeral on the football team and when baseball season rolled around he showed promise of a baseball career. In four years of competition he has earned two first team football letters and three baseball awards.

Football

SUCCESSFUL. Not only was a great deal of sportsmanship and fighting spirit the team can be proud of its record. Beating a weak Broadway team, 19 to 0, by power and speed, the Grizzlies showed promise of a good team.

With but five days of rest, the Kuays met the experienced Franklin eleven and after sixty minutes of grueling football, carried on between the twenty-yard lines, the teams left the field in a scoreless tie.

Still fighting to stay in the race, the Hilltoppers played the once defeated Garfield squad — here the local boys, with their backs to their own goal line, proved they knew the meaning of the word "fight." For fifty-five minutes the Grizzlies stayed off the Garfield attack — halting the Bulldogs when yardage meant certain death to the Kuay cause — punting the ball back into safe territory — finally big Geoff Heath threw a bullet-like pass down the center of the field into the waiting arms of Sammy Bruce . . . not to be denied in the few minutes remaining in the game, the Bulldogs pushed over the only score of the game as the tired Queen Anne line weakened to the terrific pounding of the Garfield interferers and ball carriers.

Next on the schedule came the undefeated Indians from West Seattle, who scalped the Kuays, 13 to 0. The Grizzlies broke into the win column a second time against Roosevelt. Theo Carlson again proved the hero catching the pass that put the ball in scoring position for the lone touch down of the game.

Minus the services of two varsity linemen the Grizzlies tackled the strong Lincoln team in the final game of the season, losing by the score of 19 to 0.

The Bears ended the season in a tie for third place. At the close of the season, Theo Carlson was voted the Duty Inspirational Award. Theo was also named All City end while Harry Goodfellow, Herb Gove, Jim Lounsberry and Russ Dahlbeck were given honorable mention.

The second team had a mediocre season, winning two games, losing three and tying one. Ronald Hall, end and team punter, Cliff Bergeson, running guard, Don Means, end, and Bert Williams, tackle, were the mainstays of the team. These boys all return and will be a big help in the formation of a team next September.

Bill Haroldson, former Queen Anne student, took over the reins vacated by Arthur Shelton at the head of the frost coaching staff. Ray Segal and Russ Alexander showed up well throughout the season. The team as a whole was rather small, which accounted for their losing the three games they played.

Those earning first team letters were: Theo Carlson, Willie Gill, and Harry Goodfellow, ends; Russ Dahlbeck, Ernest Stanley, and Chuck Garrett, tackles; Jim Lounsberry, Jack Cameron, and Jim Palmer, guards, Frank Cook and Howard Smith, centers, Don Sprinkle, Bill Hawke, fullbacks, Herb Gove, quarterback, Leo Vanni, and Jerry Munro, halfbacks. The team was co-captained by Herb Gove and Theo Carlson.

—JIM LOUNSBERRY.

Basketball

COMPOSED mostly of inexperienced men, the Queen Anne basketball team won but three games during the twelve-game schedule. Despite the lack of experience and size the team managed to give the championship Lincoln outfit a beating in one of the most exciting games on the home floor. The Kuays came from behind to defeat the Lynx in the last few minutes of the game. "Lefty" Loquvam's side shots and Chuck Sullivan's shots from under the basket largely accounted for the win. "Lefty" led the Grizzlies in scoring with Sullivan a close second, while Will Gill was noted for his checking.

Although the team ended up near the bottom of the league, the boys gained a lot of experience which should prove useful next year. Besides winning from Lincoln, the team twice upset the Eagles from Cleveland.

Those earning first team awards were Henry "Lefty" Loquvam, Chuck Sullivan, Don Means, Carl Carulli, Keith Miller, Willie Gill, the team captain, and Ronald Hall. Loquvam, Sullivan, Means and Hall will return next year to form the nucleus of the team.

The second team had a poor year also, losing the majority of its games as did the freshman and sophomore teams. Bill Hare, coach, tutored the underclassmen.

Baseball

WITH five wins and but two defeats behind them, the Queen Anne baseball team shows promise of a successful season and possibility of another championship as the "Grizzly" goes to press.

After five weeks of training, the H. I. Loppers opened the season against their bitter rival — Ballard. Playing errorless ball on the home diamond, the Grizzlies nosed out the Beavers, 6 to 5. Bad breaks marked the downfall of the Kuays as they were humbled by the Cleveland nine. The score was 2 to 1. "Lefty" Loguvam's consistent pitching helped the Bears to win their next two games as they trounced Roosevelt, 3 to 1, and Franklin, 4 to 2.

Scoring four runs in a third inning rally, West Seattle's Indians held Queen Anne to seven hits to hang up a 6 to 2 win. Lincoln, leading the league with four wins and no losses, fell before the Grizzlies as Queen Anne's heavy hitters pounded out seventeen hits to triumph, 9 to 5. Ido Vanni, sensational outfielder, came out of his early season slump to place himself at the top of the city's sluggers. The victory also established Hank Loquvam as the league's outstanding hurler. Cleveland's nine proved weak away from its home grounds as the Kuays drubbed the visitors 8 to 1 in their return engagement.

Track LED BY Captain Pat Lydon, the Queen Anne track team has proved itself the best team in the past four years. At the time of the writing of this article, the team has defeated Broadway in dual competition, lost to Lincoln and Garfield and beaten Cleveland and Ballard in triangular meets.

The mile relay team, composed of Paul Doyle, Jim Lounsberry, Dick Biggs and Pat Lydon, set a new record of 3:31:8 at the relay carnival.

This year in the All-City meet, Pat Lydon, who won the half-mile in 1934, will enter the mile, and he is expected to win easily. This season he has run the mile in 4.28:8. Dick Biggs has turned in the best time among the city's half-milers and should be the All-City 880 champion. Jess Wilkins should place in the hurdle races and Bill Hawke in the discus throw.

Those receiving first team letters are Dale Daneman, Jess Wilkins, and Harry Stimmel, hurdles; Bob and Riley Shannon, pole vault; Dick Biggs, Harry Lydon and Bob Chantler, half mile; Dick Moore, Yoshi Miyazuchi, and Pat Lydon, mile; Frank Cook, high jump; Bill Hawke and Paul Doyle, weights; and Jim Lounsberry, sprints.

Bob Moody, head manager, and Stan Schwartz, assistant, also receive awards.

Girls' Athletics

girls practiced until teams were chosen. Orange played Black to a 0-0 score, Lavender defeated Yellow by 1-0. Then — "inclement" weather stalled the players' ambitions for the season.

As thoughts turned to basketball, girls came down to the gym regularly. Many exciting games followed before the seniors announced victory. Twelve girls participated in an exhibition basketball game at the Mother-Daughter Banquet, May 3. Volleyball, the next major sport, seconded the tying line. Sophomores and seniors shared honors.

A month of baseball turnouts ended in the selection of two teams—"A" and "B." A third left this title in the gulch. Track started May 20 and showed much hitherto undiscovered talent. Completing the round of competitive sports were handball, in which twenty-five girls participated, tennis, entertaining twenty-four, and badminton.

Because competition isn't the only stimulus to activity, bikes to Mag

India, Volunteer Park, the University, and the Ballard Locks were not let down. Twenty-one girls witnessed a most comical "Q" Club initiation on the University hike October 6.

West Seattle, Lincoln, and Broadway afforded the "Q" Club outside entertainment at a party, breakfast and banquet respectively. Within their own limits, the "Q" girls gave two parties for entering fresh men and two initiations.

Each year a silver cup is awarded the senior girl voted the greatest inspiration in athletics. Mary Pederson easily got it this year.

In closing, a word of thanks to the managers: Miss Grace Skinner, adviser, Mary Pederson, general manager, Loraine Bentley, hockey, Bev Player, basketball; Wilma Holley, volleyball, Eva Matsumoto, baseball, Dorothelle Willard, track; Pattie Foster, freshmen; Ethylmae Cooper, sophomores; Betsy O'Connor, juniors, Wilma Holley, seniors, and to the "Q" Club officers: Mary Pederson, Ruth Horrell, Virginia Bachelor, Dode Mitchell, Ella Wesa Redfern, Wilma Holley, Grace Ainslie, and Betty Herbert.

Marjorie Hood

FAMOUS for her smile that stays there whether she feels that way or not, Margie Hood has quietly and unofficially taken care of her term as Editor of the Kuay Weekly, as well as two periods in the position of Business Manager. Her political career has not been so bad either as she was vice-president of the sophomore class, and is now secretary of the senior class.

as far from Virginia Bachelor

ONE of Queen Anne's "all-around" girls, she was an active "Q" Club member and maintained a scholastic average of "A." By popular vote of the senior class, she was chosen one of the two class commencement speakers. During her junior year, she was chairman of the Social Service Committee. Because of her sterling qualities, she was named "Inspiration Girl" of the Girls' Club Cabinet.

How to make a list

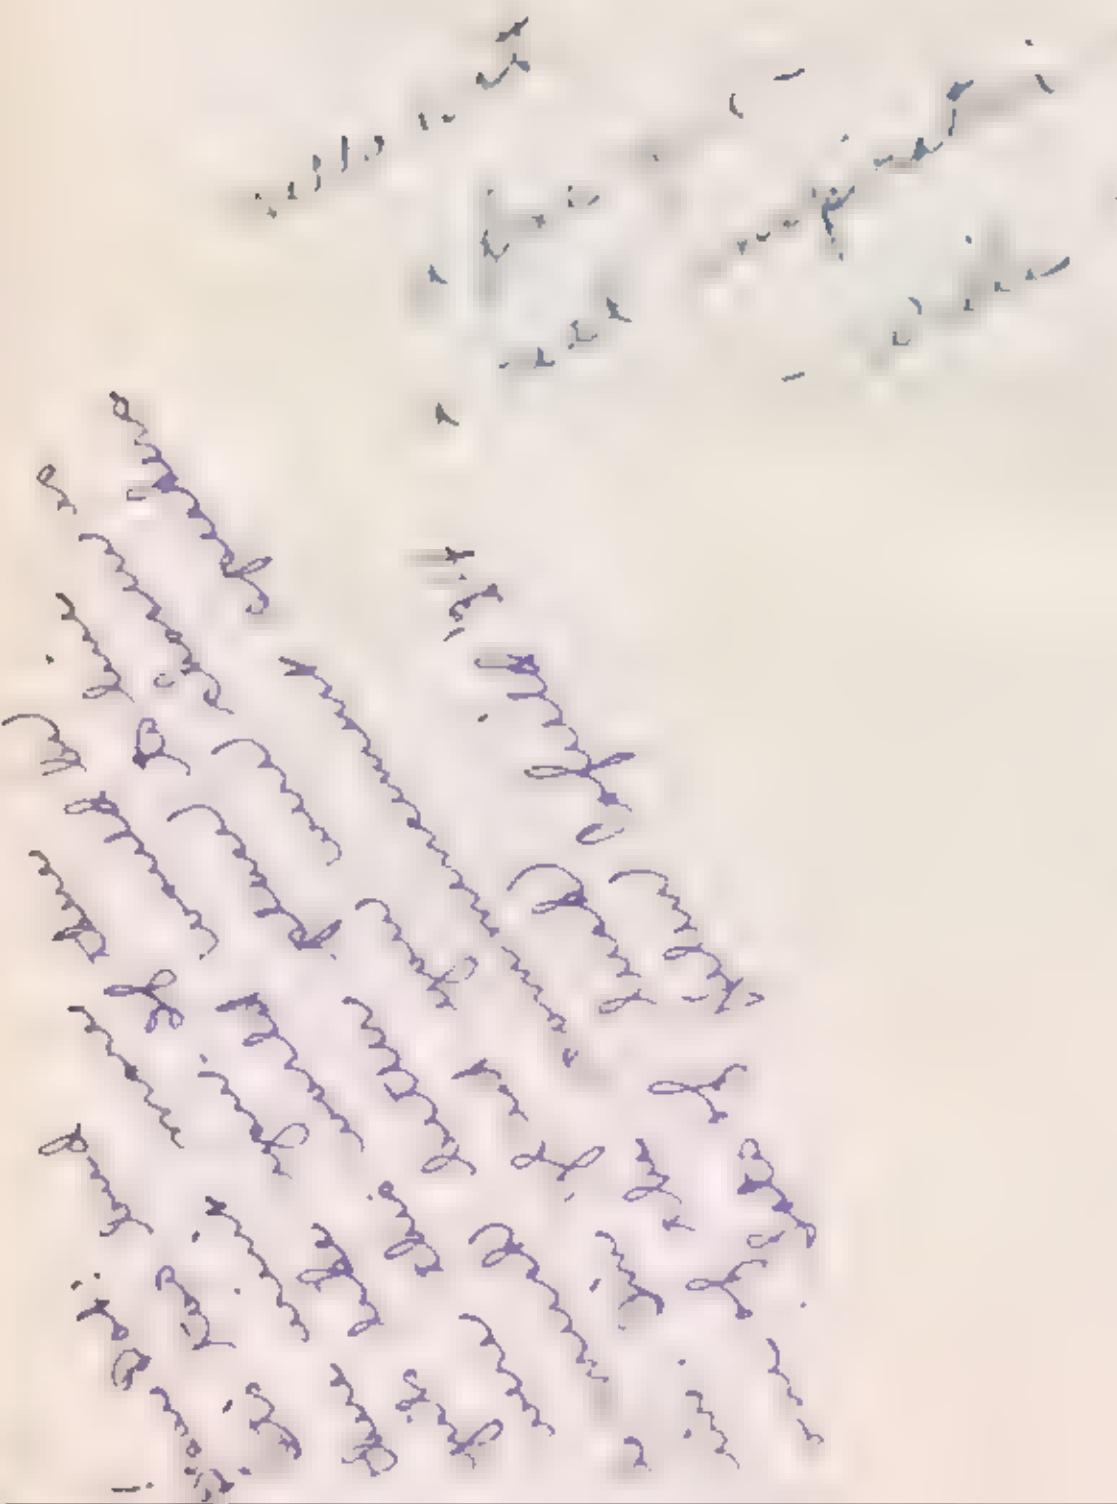

Kicker at the Beach

Dear Mr. St.

Look, isn't it nice you been a well drawn up newspaper. I hope it will continue to be a fine one and add to your list of well known men. I hope you will go along the course you have chosen. Good luck and good at this you are going to make it worth.

Yours very truly

John C. St.

• We are particularly grateful to those helpful persons and organizations
Waterbury at the Western Engraving Company, Mrs. Evans and Mr. C. C. of Bassett's, George Hindley Jr. and Charles Sealover of the Metropolitan Press and our friends whose efforts serve us upon these pages.

—THE ANNUAL STAFF

Dear Dr. it's well of you to give me ever had a friend like you it would be a great privilege to be your classmate and friend
I send you my best regards and my love to all the friends

Dear I've been waiting about too waiting about a week now to sign your annual and now that I have it
I'm not so sure of what to put in it.
I do want to say tho that I think Horace is just about the luckiest kid in the World to have a girl like you, I mean it, gosh you ~~are~~ are bright, a good athlete you can sew, sew I've heard, (I'm sorry) and your a good public speaker, least I think so and so do a lot of other kids talked to. Congratulations!
Dorothy I didn't buy your graduation present but I do wish you all the Luck and Happiness in the World, you sure deserve it Yours loving brother in law to be
